

A thing called turbo per element that can shape a path
Where previously there was no way to reflect perpendicular Or parallel with the help of mini and per operation by a Stress-thesis-chip copyright crioner.com

Alternate computational curve based algorithms aiding by another chip in a chain reaction processing

