Computational modulating wave processing a computational script that instead of one's and zeros a frequency that pairs with other waves to make a computation together copyright crioner.com