

749 school approved learning device is a working tablet or pc that operates when needed and is encrypted for students personal ownership works with a specific class and operates with t-compact-flash-or any mobile scheme including the means to submit tests and homework from home the road abroad or inside class tests could be modified or encryption signatures in the submission could be succinct with the owner of a finger print
Copyright © 2016 Christopher G Brown