

to search for a topic with an image. to find people places and things. with input from meta tags such as technical terms when where who and why. as well as to modify the photo scan or topic by perspective date and angle using the image itself and the topic to search with. the intent is to exactly find the right thing at the right time while using visual content and with proper context. | Copyright crioner.com