1332 dual user add on information applications that work on cache and submission processes is a working rule based program that allows more than one user at a time to use the same work place for example a spread sheet that is incorporated to other sheets and linked by a pseudo data connection and plural mouse movements copyright © 2018 christopher gabriel brown patent abstract utility