

1443 multiple cycles looping optical calculation is a step in the optical CPU with a transposed availability to calculate a problem in a scenario of motion as opposed to a stationary circuit Copyright © 2018 Christopher Gabriel Brown