

1446 magnetic optical processor is a simple name for the magnetic cubit optical media circuit written chip that is bound by optical processing language and is the binary equal to central processing unit code of cubits as an optical processor Copyright © 2018 Christopher Gabriel Brown