

Off the Grid Computations and Landing Points

by Christopher G Brown PhD VII

what goes up may come down. the point that we need to measure in haste is the unmeasurable flash point that will keep the platform from crashing when landing. copyright crioner.com